

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of figures	v
List of pictures	vi
List of plates	x
List of tables	xi
List of maps	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
A Note on Transcriptions	xv
Summary	xvi
1. INTRODUCTION	1
2. THE GEOGRAPHICAL SETTING	3
3. METHODOLOGY	5
3.1. Previous Research.....	5
3.2. Sources.....	6
3.2.1. Historical Sources.....	6
Medieval Sources.....	6
Travellers' Accounts.....	8
3.2.2. Other Sources and Field Survey Methods.....	8
Maps.....	9
Pictorial Evidence.....	11
Oral Sources.....	11
Documentation.....	12
Toponymy.....	12
An example for the re-identification of sites: the charter of Armensendis.....	14
Organizing the Data.....	15
3.2.3. The Pottery – Some Preliminary Observations.....	16
Previous Work on the Syrian Coast.....	16
Comparative Material on the Wider Region.....	17
Material Limitations and the Evaluation Process.....	18
Pottery Types from Rural Areas on the Syrian Coast.....	19
Unglazed Wares.....	19
Storage Vessels.....	19
Slip or Self-Slip Covered Wares.....	20
Hand-Made Painted Wares (HMPW).....	20
'Tall Sukas Ware'.....	20
Ṭarṭūs Excavation Assemblage.....	21
Glazed Wares.....	21
Lead-Glazed Common Wares.....	21
Glazed Slip-Wares.....	21
Monochrome Glazed Slip-Wares.....	21
Glazed Reserved Slip-Wares.....	22
Bowls with Gritty Glaze.....	22
Glazed Slip-Wares with Green Splashed Decoration.....	22
Glazed Slip-Painted Wares.....	22
Sgraffiato Wares.....	23

Port St. Symeon Wares.....	23
Coarse Sgraffiato Wares.....	24
Gouged Sgraffiato Wares	24
Import Wares from the Muslim-Held Interior	24
Wares with Molded Decoration.....	24
Monochrome Glazed Incised Wares.....	24
Monochrome Glazed Wares of the Tell Minis Type.....	24
General Remarks.....	24
4. HISTORICAL FRAME	29
4.1. Pre-Crusader Period	29
Antique antecedents.....	29
The early Muslim period	29
4.2. The Crusader Period.....	30
The dynamics of the conquest	30
Crisis and response (1130-1188)	32
The campaign of Saladin in 1188 and its effects	34
The age of the Military Orders (1188-1260)	36
The Mamluk reconquest (1260-1291)	37
The effects of the expulsion of the Crusaders	39
5. SETTLEMENT.....	43
5.1. The Towns in the Network of Settlements.....	43
5.2. The Fortified Sites.....	45
5.2.1. The Castles and the Rabad	45
The castles.....	45
The rabad	48
CASE STUDY 1. Fortified Caves and Rock-Cut Habitations.....	51
Medieval Cave Structures of the Wider Region	51
Source Limitations in Relation to the Caves of Crusader Syria	53
The Cave Structures of the Jabal Wasṭānī and its Environs	54
Historical sources concerning the “ shaqīfs ”	54
The geographical setting	55
The troglodytic tradition of the region.....	55
Medieval cave sites of the region.....	56
Shaqīf Darkūsh	56
Shaqīf Balmīs.....	59
Shaqīf Kafar Dubbīn.....	60
Kuwārū	62
The possible site of Shaqīf al-Rūj.....	62
Kafart ‘Iqāb (Mughur al-Mu‘allaqa)	63
Analysis of the Cave Sites	63
Ancient origins?.....	63
Form.....	64
Function	64
The Fortified Cave of Zahr al-Jubaybāt near Ṣāfītā	68
5.2.2. Tower Sites and Courtyard Buildings.....	68
Tower Sites.....	70
Origins	73
Functions of towers.....	74
Geographic location.....	77
Architectural analysis	79
Towers with subsidiary structures	79
Towers	81
Tower sites and settlements	86
The written sources	86
Written sources and archaeology: the example of Balda	87
Archaeological Evidence.....	88
Courtyard Buildings.....	88

CASE STUDY 2. Qal‘at Umm Ḥūsh, a Crusader tower site in the Hill Country of Ṣāfītā.....	91
Geographical location.....	91
Historical sources.....	91
Architecture and function.....	92
The tower.....	92
The enclosure.....	93
The settlement.....	94
5.2.3. The Casalia and Gastinae	96
The Casalia in Relation to the Historical Sources.....	96
The Casalia in Relation to the Archaeological Material.....	97
Rural churches and chapels.....	97
Rural monasteries and hermitages.....	102
Village mosques, shrines and ḥammāms	103
The village houses.....	104
The density of the rural settlements.....	105
The Jabal Zāwiya parallel.....	105
The Khirbat al-Qurshiyya region.....	106
Casalia in the hinterland of al-Marqab.....	108
The region of the Gap of Homs (the Plain of ‘Akkār and the Hill Country of Ṣāfītā).....	110
The Gastinae	113
5.3. Communication Lines and Rural Infrastructure.....	113
5.3.1. The Naval Routes.....	113
Ports and Coastal Shipping in the Historical Sources.....	113
Ports in the Archaeological Material.....	115
5.3.2. Overland Routes.....	120
The Via Maris	122
The Trunk Roads East of the Anṣāriyya.....	125
The East-West Roads.....	126
Gap of Homs.....	126
The Latakia – Aleppo road.....	127
Mountain roads from the coastal plains to the Ghāb.....	128
5.3.3. Water Management.....	129
Water for Consumption.....	129
Cisterns and wells.....	129
Springs.....	130
Aqueducts.....	131
Water for Economic Production.....	132
Dams and mills.....	132
Fishing.....	136
5.3.4. Other Elements of Infrastructure.....	138
Olive and wheat.....	138
Ovens.....	139
Wine production.....	139
Quarries.....	140
Glass production.....	141
Saltpans.....	141
Pottery production.....	141
6. INHABITANTS.....	151
6.1. Eastern Christians.....	151
6.1.1. Greek Orthodox.....	152
6.1.2. Armenians.....	152
6.1.3. Maronites.....	153
6.1.4. Other Oriental Christian Communities.....	154
6.2. Muslims.....	155
6.2.1. The Sunnī and Twelver Shī‘ī Population.....	155
6.2.2. The “Mountaineers”.....	156
Ismā‘īlis	156
‘ Alawīs	157
6.2.3. Nomads.....	158

6.3. Jews.....	159
6.4. Franks.....	159
7. CONCLUSION	163
Appendix I. Fortified sites mentioned in the Latin sources	164
Appendix II. Fortified sites mentioned only in the Eastern sources.....	165
Appendix III. Fortified sites not mentioned in the written sources	166
Appendix IV. Ownership of fortified sites mentioned in the Latin sources	167
Appendix V. Fortified sites in possession of the Military Orders mentioned in the Latin sources	168
8. BIBLIOGRAPHY	169